TEDxKids@BC to Be Held At Massey Theatre

New Westminster, BC – TEDxKids@BC is organizing its sixth event to take place May 15th, 2016 at the Massey Theatre. The 67 year old theatre will be a host to over 600 attendees from primary school to high school age.

Modeled after the well known TED conference, TEDxKids@BC will recreate a mini TED styled event to encourage discussion about ideas that matter to our province and our youth. For 2016 we have carefully selected twelve speakers who will share one of a kind stories and ideas revolving around a unique perspective of the theme “Regenerate.”

About TEDxKids@BC:

We are an independently organized TEDx conference that supports youth development by inviting students to participate in all areas of planning, production and design while being mentored by adults. Founded in 2011, we strongly believe that TEDx events initiate powerful ideas in the community that will motivate action, progress, or regenerate ideas. Our mission to spark deep discussion and connect small groups has inspired many young individuals across British Columbia to take the stage and share their own personal experiences to their peers.
